Sir C V Raman

Sir Chandrasekhara Venkata Raman, born in Tiruchirappalli in Tamil Nadu on 7th November 1888, was a renowned Indian physicist, who was awarded the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1930 for his ground-breaking work in Physics. His father Chandrasekara Iyer, was a lecturer in Mathematics and Physics. His mother was Parvati Ammal. Raman had a good and congenial environment from childhood to pursue intellectual activities. He passed his matriculation at the age of 11 and graduated from the Presidency College, Chennai with gold medals in Physics and English. He also passed the I.C.S. examination with flying colors.

In 1907, while still in his teens, he was posted as Assistant Accountant General in Calcutta. However, he pursued his research in physics at the Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science (IACS). He studied the diffraction of light and his thesis on the subject was published in 1906. In 1907, he completed his Master's degree in Physics, at the age of 19. Raman was awarded the Doctorate degree in 1921 by Kolkata University. He studied the physics of musical instruments like violin, mridangam and tabla. In 1924, he became a Fellow of the Royal Society. In 1925, he went to Russia to receive an honor from the Russian Academy of Sciences. In 1926, he launched the Indian Journal of Physics.

Once during his return from Europe, Raman was amazed by the blue color of the sea. He did some experiments and during this voyage, Raman sent two papers to the journal Nature stating that the color of the sea was due to light scattering by the water molecules а phenomenon he called molecular diffraction. Raman showed that the blue color of the sea is due to molecular scattering and not due to reflection of the color of the sky. Back home in India, Raman and his studied the frequency shift students The real discovery of the scattered light. "Raman Effect" took place on the 28th of February 1928 when he pointed a direct vision spectroscope on the scattered track and observed that the scattered light contained not only the incident color but at least one other which was a clear demonstration of change in wavelength due to scattering. His research on "Raman Effect" was awarded the Nobel Prize by the Swedish Academy of Sciences in 1930. The Government of India honored him with Bharat Ratna award in 1954. He was also awarded Lenin Peace Prize in 1958. He believed that his life was reserved for science.

Sub: Celebration of National Science Day (NSD)-2020 at U R Rao Satellite Centre

Dear Madam / Sir,

'National Science Day' is celebrated all over India on 28th of February every year to instill inquisitiveness and scientific temper in the young minds. This day is celebrated in commemoration of the discovery of "Raman Effect" by Noble laureate Sir C.V. Raman in the year 1928.

U.R. Rao Satellite Centre (URSC), formerly known as ISRO Satellite Centre (ISAC), keeping to the tradition of celebrating science annually, is organizing several events related to topics in general science for school students and teachers. The theme for this year's National Science Day as declared by Department of Science & Technology, Government of India is 'Women in Science'.

I take this opportunity to invite students and teachers from your school to take part in various events on the 15th, 22nd and 28th of February, 2020 and join us for the Valedictory function on the 28th February, 2020. Kindly refer the brochure for details and send the nominations for participation in the events to reach us on or before 13th February 2020.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, it gives me immense pleasure to once again extend a warm welcome to students and teachers from your esteemed institution to participate in the National Science Day programme at URSC.

With best regards

(Bhanumathy Y R)

Event #1

Test of Scientific Temper (How & Why of Things)

Maximum of three students per school from Category-C: VIII to X Std.

Date : 15-02-2020 (Saturday)

Time : 9.30 AM to 12.30 PM

(Please report at URSC Reception by 9:00 AM)

Venue : Satish Dhawan Auditorium, 1st Floor, Main Building, URSC

Description:

This competition is mainly to test the reasoning ability of students to happenings related to normal day-to-day activities and observations of things around them. Some of those inquisitive questions could be as follows:

- Why do we see only one face of the moon always?
- Why tear comes out of eyes when we cry?
- · Why sea water is salty?

The students are expected to answer based on scientific principles/concepts. The event Test of Scientific Temper tries to explore scientific awareness among student community. This test will be for 90 minutes duration.

Note:

- 1. This is an individual event.
- 2. Medium of test will be English.
- 3. Answer sheets will be supplied. Students are required to bring their own pens/pencils and writing pads.
- 4. Answers need to be brief and focused.
- 5. While evaluating answer, emphasis will be given for the understanding of basic scientific principles.

Event #4

Teachers' Event: A presentation on "TEACHER'S ROLE IN INSPIRING STUDENTS TO PURSUE A CAREER IN SCIENCE"

One teacher per school

Date : 22-02-2020 (Saturday)

Time : 9:30 AM -12:30PM

(Please report at URSC Reception by 8:30 AM)

Venue : MOCC Conference Hall, 2nd Floor, Main Building, URSC

Description: People who work in science careers are responsible for many of the things we, as a society benefit from every day —ways to prevent and cure diseases, new technology, strategies to help control climate change and the like. However, many people perceive science to be something tough and negative. A lot of this is due to the books and movies that portray scientists as crazy and nerdy. Teachers can play a big role in changing this view and in showing students, that a career in science is actually an exciting one. Its all about innovation, discovery and research. Its also about improving people's lives and developing our knowledge and understanding of people, nature, the world and our universe at large.

Note:

- 1. This is an individual event. Medium of presentation will be Hindi/Kannada/English
- 2. The slides shall be in Microsoft office Power point (PPT).
- 3. Presentations in ppt format can be sent to the below mentioned E-mail id by 14th Feb with details of the candidates full name, school address & their e-mail id.
- 4. Majority of the audience are high school children.
- 5. Teachers should bring their school identity cards. In case of non-availability of school identity cards, teachers should bring a letter from the school attested by the Head of the Institution.
- 6. Evaluation of the abstracts, is based on innovative ideas, motivating skills and content.
- 7. Selected teachers will be intimated via e-mail by 17th Feb 2020.
- 8. Duration: for Presentation 10 minutes, Q&A 2 minutes
- 9. Selected teachers have to prepare presentations in maximum 10 slides & send on or before 20th Feb 2020.
- 10. Presentation skills, content, time management and impact on students will be the main selection criteria for final selection/prize.

Reporting Time

As the security formalities (which take some time) need to be duly observed, the visitors are advised to report at URSC Reception sufficiently in advance on 15-02-2020, 22-02-2020 and 28-02-2020 for competitions /events as suggested. This will ensure that there will be no delay in participation in various events.
